

2019 Annual Report

The Art Park is pleased to provide this report to the community. 2019 was a year of cohesion and planning for the future. In May 2019, Emily Zaengle returned to the Art Park as CEO. In December, the board of directors thanked Joel Potash for his service as he finished his full nine-year term as a board member.

2019 was also a year of celebrating what we love about the Art Park: art bringing people together on the land. 2019 included the following programs and collaborations:

- Emerging Artist Exhibition
- Hilltop House tours
- Members Exhibition
- SQ: AiR (Stone Quarry Artist-in-Residence program)
- Society for New Music Family Art Day
- Syracuse Ceramic Guild's Pottery Fair
- YMCA Art Camps for kids
- Fiery Fundraiser with artist Jim Ridlon Jr.

We could not do what we do without the support of our donors, members, and volunteers. Thank you for making 2019 a successful year. From children learning to paint in the landscape, to the potters that showcase their wares at Pottery Fair, to the artists that are provided time and space for creative thinking and experimentation, to volunteers that maintain our gardens and trails, you help shape the experience of Stone Quarry Hill Art Park. We are so happy to have you as a part of our story. Thank you.

2019 donations included support for two major sculpture repairs. Donations supported the purchase of new flags for the Third Iteration sculpture and a reinforced base for Esther Benedict's Bucking, Rearing, Shying sculpture. Photo credit, Bob Gates.

2019 donations included $6,000 from around 50 people in memory of Dick Tuttle. Dick was a former board member and long-time supporter. We had the honor of working with Dick's wife Sharye Skinner to determine an appropriate use of the funds. As a result of these gifts, we were able to invest in improvements to our indoor gallery space and visitor center. Thank you.*
